SECOND DAY.

Ohio Makes McKinley Her Second Choice.

Massachusetts to Go Solidly for McKinley or Reed After First Ballot.

McKinley Is Made Permanent Chairman of the Convention—He Is Chosen as He Enters the Hall, as Also is Foraker—Anything for Delay.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—Three minutes before the hour of opening the proceedings of the second session of the convention (11 a. m.) Gov. McKinley, the chairman-elect, walked down the main aisle to an accompaniment of cheers. He bore no roll of manuscript and it was evident that he prepared no set speech. The show-white, but still abundant locks of the venerable Fred Douglas caught the eye of the delegates and the crowd of spectators as he stepped out of the brilliant and caustic Kansas. While the delegates and spectators were assembling there was much discussion of the probable action of the Ohio delegation, as it was reported that they were preparing to go to McKinley. Gov. McKinley seated himself in the gallery, behind the chair, in close company with Gov. Gorham, Senator Carey, and other friends of the administration. Temporary Chairman Fassett was late in putting in an appearance, and so, to save a good many of the delegates who had been engaged in committee work a good part of the night, but the band kept things lively. Ex-Speaker Reed's familiar form was looked for and found in the same place as Tuesday. Fred Douglass was invited to a seat on the platform.

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN FASSETT.

It was 11:43 when Chairman Fassett rapped the convention to order. The Rt. Rev. H. B. Whipple, Episcopal bishop of Minnesota, who has been sitting to the left of the chair, with his head protected by a little purple asp, removed that covering and opened the proceedings with prayer. Mr. Webster, of Nebraska, asked that Mr. Walker, of Nebraska, be given the floor to present a gavel to the convention. The chair announced that Mr. Walker would have the floor for that purpose. "What purpose?" said some delegate in the front row. Mr. Fassett explained. Mr. Walker then took the platform and made a little speech in so low a tone that there were cries of "Louder" from all parts of the hall.

The gavel was presented in the name of the young republicans of Nebraska, in memory of the homestead act. Mr. Walker described the wood of which the gavel was made, and said that there were two silver oaks in the end of it. Mr. Fassett, as temporary chairman, returned the thanks of the convention to the state of Nebraska. This slip of the tongue caused laughter, which Mr. Fassett adroitly turned to account, saying that there was so much silver about the gavel that the mistake was excusable. The temporary chairman announced the order of business to be the presentation of the credentials committee report. Mr. Cogswell, chairman of that committee, took the floor and said that the committee was not ready to report.

He asked permission for the committee to sit continuously until it had completed its labors. That if the committee is attended by reasonable success it can not report before noon tomorrow. Leave to sit continuously was granted. Mr. Cogswell and Mr. Spooner having taken their seats the chairman announced that the report of the committee on permanent organization was next in order. D. C. Lockwood, of Idaho, chairman of the committee, was recognized and took the platform. He presented the name of Hon. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, for permanent chairman. It was received with tumultuous applause. Charles W. Johnson was named for secretary, and the assistant secretaries were recommended continued.

The committee also recommends that each delegation appoint an honorary vice president and secretary. Mr. Lockwood moved the adoption of the report and it was adopted. Mr. Bingham reported from the committee on rules and order of procedure. There will be 88 votes in the convention and 40 necessary to nominate. Rules of the fifty-first house will govern. Report adopted. As none of the committees outside of rules and order were ready to report the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

One of the Ohio delegates says that if Harrison is not nominated on the first ballot, they will go solid for McKinley. Frost, of Massachusetts, says his delegation has agreed to go solidly for McKinley or Reed if the first ballot does not nominate. When the name of McKinley was reported for permanent chairman it was followed by prolonged applause, delegates waving their hats, handkerchiefs, etc., for twenty seconds. Gov. McKinley was escorted to the chair by Messrs. Fassett, Spooner and Mahone, amidst great enthusiasm.

The applause for McKinley broke out afresh and three rousing cheers were given for him, accompanied by cries of "He's all right!" Gov. McKinley returned his thanks in a neat speech for the reception. Charles was named as committeeman from Iowa, and is regarded as a Blaine point. R. C. Kewins named by Missouri. This is another Blaine point. J. H. Manley was named for Maine's national committeeman. Al Murray Chase chosen by Massachusetts. Preston D. Cherry named by New Hampshire. New York named Frank S. Withers. Southern states all asked for further time to name national committeemen. Vermont selects Mason B. Holbert. Virginia names Mahone.

The whole talk going the rounds is "delay." The committee on credentials, it is said, will be in a deadlock. The hotels, restaurants and street railroads will reap the benefit. The Blaine people are pleased with this. They want a waiting fight with the hope of tying the administration people out.

THE CONVENTION BUILDING.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

Miss Katie Clay Cox Entertains in Honor of Miss Bessie Runyon.

The handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Cox presented last evening an animated scene. It was the occasion of a party, given by Miss Katie Clay Cox in honor of Miss Bessie Runyon of New York. The parlors were brilliantly lighted, the mantels banked with cut flowers and the air was redolent with perfume. Miss Lida Berry presided at the piano, and with the violin of U. G. Bailey the young people were furnished with sweet music, to the strains of which they danced to their hearts' content.

Among those present a LEDGER reporter noticed Misses—
Marie Hunter, Myra Duke, Mary Burgess, Martha Newell, Florence P. Wadsworth, Nettie P. Owens, Imogene Ficklin, Lizzie Newman Cox, Bertie Robinson, Lilla Ra Pecor, Jennie Dobyns, Florence Barkley, Mary Hall, Kittie K. Shackelford.

Masters—
Kemp Ball, George Hunter, Tom Hall, Nelson Clift, Stanley Reed, Bruce Owens, Andrew Rogers, James Rogers, Jim Goodman, Gus Wood, Gus Wornald.

Among the others in attendance were Mrs. Katharine Albert, Mrs. Asa Runyon of New York, Mrs. William H. Cox, Miss Mary Eliza Richeson, Miss Lottie Berry, Miss Susie Huston Hall, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hall, Dr. Thomas E. Pickett, Holt Richeson, W. C. Shackelford.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox were unremitting in their attentions to the little folk, in which they were ably assisted by Mrs. Cox's accomplished sisters, Misses Sophia B. and Hattie A. Albert.

Refreshments were served in bounteous profusion, and the occasion will be long remembered by those who were fortunate enough to share the hospitality of the charming little hostess.

THE exact loss of life in the Oil Creek valley will never be known. Nearly 1,500 people are homeless in Oil City and Titusville. President Harrison has sent a draft for $200 for the sufferers. Gov. Pattison has visited the stricken district, and the work of relief is being carried on systematically.

DANIEL McDANIELS of Hanging Rock, who assaulted Minnie B. Hays last February, was found guilty of assault with intent to kill as charged, and the prisoner returned to jail, the court saying it would pronounce the sentence later. Their Money Was Counterfeit. During the session of the A. O. H. in this city several of the Delegates went into Tom Guilfoyle's restaurant for refreshments. Now, Tom is somewhat of a Hibernian himself.

When one of the visitors proffered pay for what they had gotten, Tom said: "That money is counterfeit." The visitor promptly produced another coin.

"That is counterfeit too," said Tom. "Then, by St. Patrick, I have some that is good," said the visitor as he unrolled a hunk of greenbacks as big as a cheese.

"It's all counterfeit; you can't pass any money in this town," was Tom's third reply. And then it dawned upon the visitor that "everything goes" in Maysville when it comes to entertaining strangers within our gates.

THERE is no missionary in Afghanistan, with her 6,000,000 people. Annam, with 5,000,000, has only Roman Catholic missionary. India has one missionary to 375,000 people; Persia, one to 300,000; Tibet, one to 2,000,000. We'd like to see a computation showing just how long it will take to convert these hordes, and just how much the cost will be at the rate the foreign missionary work has been going on, calculating that it now costs ninety cents to get ten cents to our friends the heathens. It is about time that this foreign heathen fad was stopped, and that our charities, religious and social, were dispensed among our own benighted and suffering countrymen.

"And then a spider with wondrous skill— You'll hardly believe it, mother— Stretched a web from the pink to the rose, So they could talk to each other. And ever since then their heads are still, For they say through their telephone what they will."
